

Philip Rutkowski

310.279.8901

phil@quietthenloud.net

http://phil.quietthenloud.net

An aspiring computer programmer with many computer skills and fast learning abilities

Summary of Qualifications

- Independently and professionally experienced in web, database and application programming & management.
 - Works effectively with teams of other programmers and designers.
 - Interested in learning new languages and algorithms.
 - Highly trainable and a fast learner. Adapts well to changes and pressures in the workplace.
-

Education

UCLA 2004 – Present
Ph.D. student in Chemistry

Hofstra University 1997 – 2002
Bachelor of Science in Environmental Resources
Minors in Computer Science, Chemistry and Biology
Graduating GPA – 3.399 with 166 credits

Interests

- Web programming with PHP/ASP and database management with MySQL/SQL Server
 - Video Game Programming with OpenGL and DirectX
 - Application programming with Visual Basic and Visual C++
-

Experience

- Product Specialist/Application Developer – RedDot Solutions, Inc. – 01/03 to 08/04
 - Consulted clients on integration of existing websites into RedDot's CMS software
 - Created a Content Import Engine, in VB, for RedDot's Content Management Software that imported a client's data into their CMS project
 - Web Services Engineer – Direct InSite Corporation – 01/02 to 08/02
 - Heavy concentration on web programming with ASP/ASP .NET and database programming/management with SQL Server.
 - Application programming with VB and VB .NET to create software that monitored server stability.
-

Skills

Languages	C/C++/Visual C++, VB/VB .NET, PHP, MySQL, ASP/ASP .NET, Microsoft SQL Server, HTML, JavaScript, CSS, OpenGL, DirectX, Java and Perl.
Operating Systems	Microsoft Windows (any platform), Macintosh, UNIX, and Linux.
Applications	Microsoft Visual Studio .NET, Microsoft SQL Server, Adobe Photoshop, Macromedia Dreamweaver, Apache, IIS.